Classical Music Rendez-vous

THE MONTREAL CHAMBER ORCHESTRA PRESENTS A FREE
OUTDOOR CONCERT AT PARC JEAN-DRAPEAU

Montreal, July 22, 2009 – Music-lovers are in for a treat at Parc Jean-Drapeau on Thursday evening as the Montreal Chamber Orchestra will be performing a free outdoor concert in conjunction with the Week-ends du Monde Classical Music Rendez-vous. The Opus Lib brass quintet and Quebec soprano Marie-Josée Lord, will be directed by the Orchestra's conductor, Montrealer Wanda Kaluzny, in presenting the works of composer George Gershwin.

The classical music concert will be staged on the Île Ste-Hélène parterre of Parc Jean-Drapeau, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. People planning to attend the concert are invited to bring their chair. This event coincides with the series of activities surrounding the 35th anniversary of the Montreal Chamber Orchestra.

The Week-ends du Monde, presented by Loto-Québec, is a festive event celebrating Montrealers of all origins that make up the city's mosaic. The program focuses on music, dance, arts and crafts and fine cuisine.
